

Is This the Fall?

Carbon Leaf

Free, exactly where I should be
But, I admit sometimes I lie
I lost the war but tried
I tried every day, I tried to stay away And now I've some things to get off my chest
You have ruined my unhappiness
But planets changed, lives rearranged
And you know, time doesn't lie Is this the fall? Is this goodbye?
Not really sure, perhaps I should try
New catalog something to buy
That ought to cure my lonely insides You tell me what I should do
I admit I need a guide
And I need to share what's inside
I need to be found. I need to run aground You never gage your life with style
You could have lost just once in a while
My days are all gone waving you on
Time doesn't lie Is this the fall? Is this goodbye?
Not really sure, perhaps I should try
New catalog something to buy
That ought to cure my lonely insides How long can I wait another day?
How long can I wait another night?
How long can I wait another day?
How long can I wait another night?
Another Is this the fall? Is this goodbye?
Not really sure, perhaps I should try
New catalog something to buy
That ought to cure my lonely insides Is this the fall? Is this goodbye?
Not really sure, perhaps I should try
New catalog something to buy
That ought to cure my lonely insides
