Open Me Up

Under The Flood

How can I see, shadowed ambiguity?
With these eyes deceived and bring my mind into obscurity
Can't find that memory, awake in a dream
Please release my hand, it's not painful, smile
'Cause you open me up
You take what's inside
Never know how I feel about you
Everything inside it turns blue, are you on my side?
Trying to breathe, forgive and it just strangles me
Can't keep my head above your flood of insecurities
Watch the wrong frame, I need to get away, can I slip away?
It's not the same 'cause you're a fake, beautiful mistake
I'll never make the same mistake

'Cause you open me up
You take what's inside
Never know how I feel about you
Everything inside it turns blue, are you on my side?
I'm broken and desperate
You're lost and dead inside
You needed this to happen to satisfy denial
'Cause you open me up
You take what's inside
Never know how I feel about you
Everything inside it turns blue, are you on my side?
