

Might as Well Be Making Love

Jessica Simpson

If tomorrow we won't even remember
How we started, who was right and who was wrong
If this fire will be burned down to an ember
Before too long If the morning's gonna turn it into history
Be a page of words we wish we'd never said
If you're gonna wake up here with me
Here with me anyway, here in this bed We might as well be making love
Let this rainy night have the best of us
Turn these stubborn walls into a pile of dust
Maybe we've said enough, we might as well be making love If these moments between us are really diamonds
So beautiful, so rare, so hard to find
Then we better pay attention while they're shining
And stop wasting time, yeah 'cause we're wasting our time We might as well be making love
Let this rainy night have the best of us
Turn these stubborn walls into a pile of dust
Maybe we've said enough, we might as well be making love We might as well be making love
Let this rainy night have the best of us
Turn these stubborn walls into a pile of dust
Maybe we've said enough, we might as well be making love

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>