

Girl Like You

Jon Wolfe

I've looked up at the Northern lights
I've walked across the great divide
Drank a hundred-dollar shot of some Tequila
 Been held up in New York
 Saw Petty at the Troubadour
 Had some nights there in between
I can't rememberBut once a guy's seen you
 Light up a room
It's hard to want anything elseMe and you in this small town
 A little white picket fence around
 A little house we can dance across the kitchen
 An old truck in the driveway
 A little church on Sunday
 A little bed that you and I can barely fit in
All a guy like me really needs is a girl like you
 I've bet a stack of chips on black
 Won an el dorado Cadillac
 Baby blue
 Made in 1962
And I never thought I would sell that thing
 But I got my eye on a diamond ring
 That I think will look damn good on you
 Once a guy's seen you
 In the light of the moon
It's hard to want anything elseMe and you in this small town
 A little white picket fence around
 A little house we can dance across the kitchen
 An old truck in the driveway
 A little church on Sunday
 A little bed that you and I can barely fit in
All a guy like me really needs is a girl like you
 To wake up right beside in the morning
 Everyday fall a little bit more in love
 And I'll know all I'll ever need
 Is me and you in this small town
 A little white picket fence around
A little house we can dance across the kitchenAn old truck in the driveway
 A little church on Sunday
 A little bed that you and I can barely fit in

With the shades pulled down tight

Us tangled up just right

A little spark

A little fire

A little bare skin

All a guy like me really needs is a girl like you

All a guy like me really needs is a girl like you
