

Is the Answer In the Question?

MxPx

Wonder and complete surprise
It's all seen through those eyes
Tired, lonely and afraid
Every card's been played So where do we go and what should we do?
And why is the table set for two?
Is the answer in the question? Well I need some more direction
Was the answer in the question all along? Love, hate, life and certain death
All in just one breath
Mixed up, straight down, opened, closed down
Created, then unwound So where do we go and what should we do?
And why is the table set for two?
Is the answer in the question? Well, I need some more direction
Was the answer in the question all along?
