Where You Are

Rie Sinclair

Softly, like a whisper,
Hold me in your arms.
Everything fades, but you and me
And you know I?d cross the stars for your love
And I think you would go that far.
Bu there?s nowhere else I?d rather be right now
Than where you are

Moonlight, in-between us
Quiet, lingering
Lost in your eyes, but I am safe
You know I?d cross the stars for your love
And I think you would go that far
But there?s nowhere else I?d rather be right now
Than where you are

Ever so gently
Hold me in close
So I can hear you whispering my name
And you know I?d cross the stars for your love
And I think you would go that far
But there?s nowhere else I?d rather be right now
Than where you are
