We're All Thieves (demo)

Circa Survive

Lost in a haunting thought spinning me around once more I wake, just to feel the way as the daylight comes around I turn with my eyes on the back door your face is light and cocaine white one message beating throughsmokes filled the air and I'm struggling to breathe let them be calm so I finally can sleep everything you intended to say don't go back on your words you always said you'd tell me firstverse after endless verse I can't escape the echoed words I long, long to find a cure for the feeling I find in these chords I smile as it burns
your face is light and cocaine white one message beating throughI've been erased I've been erased from the pictureexcuse, oh no anything goes excuses, you know it doesn't work excuse, oh no anything goes excuses don't work. excuse me this will calls out desperate excuse me this will calls out desperatesmokes filled the air and I'm struggling to breathe
everything you intended to say
don't go back on your words you always said you'd tell me firstsmokes filled the air and I'm struggling to breathe
