My War

Agnostic Front

A beam of light cuts through the dark
My anger enraged to hate
I see what life's all about
But I just can't relateReality will bring you to your knees
As life goes on
War within my reach
My warAn empty gaze at early dawn
Before the morning light
Instinct has become mistrust
No values, wrong or rightReality will bring you to your knees
As life goes on
War within my reach
My warNow I pray and so I say
That you're my enemy
I had no gain to let it be
This is your destinyA path of life that left it's mark
Like footprints in the snow
You can run, but you can't hide
You've got nowhere to goReality will bring you to your knees
As life goes on
War within my reach
My war, my war
