

Sins

The Dangerous Summer

Was I wrong?
Didn't have you for myself
Even if you're still abroad
We will fuck with consequence 'Cause our lives will still be ours
I wanna carry you and Take your fallout and
See when I follow through
Yea, hold me harder and I'm living away from our love
I'm living away from our love To belong
To the wind won't take us from
The fire we hold inside
Won't you rest your tired eyes
'Cause a lifetime will be hard And when I stare at you
I feel my arms open
The tide is pulling through
To take our walls down and I'm living away from our love
I'm living away from our love
I'm living away from our love
I'm living away from our love
Yeah
The current's strong
There's a void where we both sleep
I'll take you out of there
I'll take you anywhere for good It won't be long
We will find a place by the beach
And days will cascade
Then days will start again for good I turn my back on the rope tied to my ceiling
To reason I won't go there anymore
So I thought for once that death might bring me healing
The Atlantic washed our In Cape Town, in London 'Til we wash away our sins and the lives that we once lived

Songwriters

ROBERT CATO, ANDREW PERDOMO, MATTHEW KENNEDY, CODY PAYNE Published by

Lyrics © Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>