Disappointment Number (Unknown

Steppenwolf

I don't believe that I can hold you anymore Now don't say good bye, walk out the door Nobody's blaming you, I've been wrong before Across the street I see shadows and candlelight But I'm here all alone, it just ain't right Across the street I see shadows and candlelightYou know it makes me feel like sighing To hear their laughter in the night The sky is crying The tears roll down my window pane So I go out walking in the rain And I'm blue againHey girl, you didn't treat me right You got me walkin' round all through the night Can't keep my feet still I need someone but it sure ain't you Got a little bit mad 'cause you couldn't be true Somebody else willFind me a bar, I'm gonna spend my bread Wake up next morning under the bed Feel a lot worse like a man with an elephant's head You know I need someone but it sure ain't you Got a little bit mad 'cause you couldn't be true Somebody else willYou know I feel so mean I could shoot down the morning sun You know I feel so mean I could shoot down the morning sun Oh, when you hurt someone You know you wind up on the run
