

It Can't Be This

Death Angel

Again you're crashing down, and you're
Losing your grip
You're feeling useless... Again betrayed
The faceless staring you down
As you stumble through town

Another misfit who's cloaked in shameAnd soon you're hearing that voice
The one that pierces the noise
It screams there's no one but you to blame
I know you said it before
A thousand times, maybe more

But! There's no way to shake this painDon't know what I want
But! I know that it's not this

Another restless soul about to lose control
Of a life that I just won't miss
Don't know what I want
But! I know it can't be this
You're slowly draining my heart
As your world falls apart

A tragic life that I just can't fixI know you've had it quite rough
You feel enough is enough
And you've been dealt some nasty blows
But! Let me make myself clear
While your world disappears

You need to ride on your highs! Not lows...Now dig your feet in the sand
And touch the sky with your hands
And God willing you will pull through
It's time I be on my way
I wish the brightest of days

Upon the dreamer that once was you
So don't let me see you cry
Let the sleeping dogs lie
Don't you throw it all away

I hope you prove them all wrong
With success far, and long

Burning bright you fiery blazeWhere are you going?
Where are you going now?
Who are you chasing?
What are you chasing down?
