

Wash Away

Radical Something

Float down stream, rivers of dreams
Float down stream, catch your wings
    Heavens high, so you fly
    Catch your dreams in the sky
But the glaciers have frozen your feet
    I can't wait for eternity
And so you watched me wash away
But maybe we'll catch up someday
    Maybe well catch up someday
    Sun sinks out of view
    Stars they shine changing hue
But bright lights have blinded your sights
They cant adjust when day turns to night
And so you watched me wash away
But maybe well catch up someday
    The castles we built were so tall
    They only left us further to fall
    And still I see them far away

But maybe we'll come back someday
    Maybe we'll come back someday
Float down stream, rivers of dreams
Float down stream, catch your wings
    The castles we built were so tall
    They only left us further to fall
    And still I see them far away
Maybe well come back someday
    The castles we built were so tall
    They only left us further to fall
    And still I see them far away
    As I watch them wash away
        Wash away
        Wash away
        Wash away
        Wash away
