

I Realize

Laura Berman

I Realize
by Laura Berman

Living large in a tiny square Broken pieces seem to lead no where Why do I feel that my life is just pretend
All my dreams staying way too small They lead me back to where I started from How can I move when I fear what lies ahead
Well there is a more than what I see Each step brings me closer to free yeah yeah

Chorus
I realize I realize
It's all inside of me
I realize I realize
There are no walls in between
you and me and this holy word
you and me and this holy word
And I realize now

And with each new day
I see my life getting bigger with less denying It's my choice now to leave or just give in
And every morning I give thanks amen
To all the growth I've experienced and I become a dream that's worth believing
Well there is a more than what I see
Each step brings me closer to me yeah

Chorus
I realize I realize
It's all inside of me
I realize I realize
There are no walls in between
you and me and this holy word
No walls in between
you and me and this holy word

Well it's a long road

But one I choose to travel
Through this life time
And I'm
I'm learning what not to do
Believe me
There is more than what you see
Yes

Chorus
I realize I realize
It's all inside of me
I realize I realize
There are no walls in between
I realize I realize
It's all inside of me
I realize I realize
There are no walls in between
No walls in between you and me and this holy word
I realize I realize
(There are no walls in between
It's all inside of me
(There are no walls in between
there are no walls
There are no walls
in between you and me
