

Your Last Call

Christina Milian

Hey what's up
You've reached Christina's answering machine
Please leave me a message after the tone
Thank you, bye
When I met you, I never through this would be something I'd have to do
'Cause from the beginning we knew you fell for me and I fell for you
We've broken up and then gotten back and then things fell through
The situation is changing and I'm facing nothing but the truth
We came so far but it's the same
It will never change so now it's time to let this go
Don't try to call my home, no message at the tone
Don't want to hear your voice, that's why you're the reason
I won't pick up my telephone 'cause it happens every time
That I get you in my life, you let me down
So, this has to be your last call you won't hear from me
Don't want you at all, so this is your last call
So, now you know that I am not including you in chapter 2
And it hurts me so but now I know it's what I have to do
So, you can stop callin' me and tellin' me there's still us or we
No thinking like that and now I won't come back 'cause now is 'bout me
This time no more sorrys

I don't want you in my life
That's why I have to let you go
I won't pick up my telephone 'cause it happens every time
That I get you in my life, you let me down
So, this has to be your last call you won't hear from me
Don't want you at all, so this is your last call
I won't pick up my telephone 'cause it happens every time
That I get you in my life, you let me down
So, this has to be your last call you won't hear from me
Don't want you at all, so this is your last call
Your last call, don't try now I move on with my life
We're not meant to be now you see and know why I
I won't pick up my telephone 'cause it happens every time
That I get you in my life, you let me down
So, this has to be your last call you won't hear from me
Don't want you at all, so this is your last call
I won't pick up my telephone 'cause it happens every time

That I get you in my life, you let me down
So, this has to be your last call you won't hear from me
Don't want you at all, so this is your last call
