180 Degrees

DM3

It's so easy to defend the status quo
With everyone so cool and cynical
But when you see the end don't justify the means
It's just that 180 degrees
The great thing about bein' a human
The ability to reason
But reasoning don't work when no one cares
Two parts apathy, one part despair
Guess what, this might come as a surprise
I'll no longer roll my eyes
A change of heart to let the conscience breathe
One quick twist, just 180 degrees
Oh yeah, I know now the right thing to do
Yeah, anti-tradition tried and true
Yeah, a world where wrong has right of way
Oh yeah, fuck that world, fuck that hierarchy
Go ahead, work, waste your life away
Fuck that world, go fuck that right away
