

The Choke

Saves The Day

Don't leave yet
It's still early and I haven't even said a word
And I'm hoping that I might upset you saying what I want to
'Cause it's not like you don't know I've fallen for
But it's in my head and that's where you can't see it
I thought that maybe if I bite you
Bite the tip of my finger
I'd stumble over words
Tell you just how far before I hit the ground
And I'm the type to think of all the wrong things to say
I will shut myself up
Well, I'll never come out
Close all my doors, only show you the black spots
Where my eyes once were
I can say this, I can say this
I can say this
I can collect myself deep down
Then I come out punching you
I can collect myself down
I come out punching you
Scream out loud, scream out loud
