Catastrophe

Yumi Zouma

Love me like you should
You know I never could
I'm better now, it's minimal
Show me all your fears
As we wait for this to clear
But no one seems to notice thoughSo treat them like your friends
You know that makes it worth
You know this change is physical
Whenever I'm away
I can feel it's not the same
It only takes a call homeWhat if you never left
What if you sank to the bottom of the ____(?)
What if I took your world
And then you run from me never to be found?Because I wanted you to notice
That I don't have a clue what's happening
And if you kept this all between us
It wouldn't stop my mind from changing
And if you find another reason
To keep us all from falling backwards
Then we could try and let it goI'm taken by your friends
While sitting to your left
Why are they stuck behind your mind?
I wonder if they care
But when they disappear
It's all a waste of breath thoughWhat if you never left
What if you sank to the bottom of the ____(?)
What if I took your world
And then you run from me never to be found?Because I wanted you to notice
That I don't have a clue what's happening
And if you kept this all between us
It wouldn't stop my mind from changing
And if you find another reason
To keep us all from falling backwards
Then we could try and let it go0272391528Love me like you should
