

Summer Rain (Original Version)

Etro Anime

Walking alone takes some faith
Trees are gray light's a blue haze
Walking alone takes some faith
Wind is pale cutting through the days I'd rather be out in the summer rain
Getting soaked yeah I wouldn't complain
But I think too much and I'm left to blame
Feeling strangely the same
I'm drawing pictures around your name
Conversation slowly sketched away
With the words I could not say
Couldn't find anyway Walking alone takes some faith
Leave behind lonely lover's face
Now that the calm's been replaced
Road you take fills with heartbreak
Walking alone takes some faith
All the love's in a state
That you can't touch hear or taste
And the grace just falls into place And no one can cloud the sun when you live your way
I don't want to run and hide underneath the shade
