Wonderland

Paul Young

For all your worried weaknesses,
All will be revealed
And for all your troubled sweetnesses,
Your troubles will be healedClose your eyes,
Close your eyes (oh, now)
Let me rise,
Let me rise (oh)I see you in a dress of blue,
With a question in your hand
I see you in your attitude,
Of sorrow and demand (oh)Close your eyes,
Close your eyesLet me take you
Back to wonderland
I will take you
Back to wonderlandWherever there's an empty space,
Split the time in two
And when you come to claim your place
I'll see you smiling throughHold my hand,
Hold my handLet me take you
Back to wonderland
I will take you
Back to wonderlandAre your eyes so tired of searchin', Ah, that they can't see love? and
Is your heart so full of locks and keys
That it can't open up? (open your heart)Through all the things that have to be,
We often have to cry
And beneath the weight of gravity,
We stumble then we flyHold my hand,
Hold my handLet me take you
Back to wonderland
I will take you
Back to wonderlandLet me take you
Back to wonderland (let me take you back)
I will take you
Back to wonderlandLet me take you
Back to wonderland (I wanna take you)
I will take you
Back to wonderland
