

Until the Morning Comes

Tindersticks

My hands round your throat
If I kill you now, well they'll never know
Wake me up if Im sleeping
By the look in your eyes I know the times nearly come Wake me up cause Im dreaming
Well, theyll never believe whats been happening here
But caught in my mind theres a way to get out Wake me up cause Im dreaming, well theyll never believe it
So hush now my babe please dont cry, everythings gonna be alright
Hush now darling I can hear youre screaming
Let me hold you until the morning comes So tell me this is what you want
You can whisper it soft or you can scream it out loud
Cause theres still time to change your mind
But do it now before tomorrow comes Wake me up cause Im dreaming, well theyll never believe it
So hush now my babe please dont cry, everythings gonna be alright
Hush now darling I can hear youre screaming
Let me hold you until the morning comes, until the morning comes The light is fading
But the stars are dancing bright
My mind is racing like the clouds across the sky
How did you make me go this far?
