Only Sixteen (Re-Recorded Version)

Craig Douglas

She was only sixteen, only sixteen
I loved her so
She was too young to fall in love
And I was too young to knowWe'd laugh and we'd sing, and do little things
That made my heart glow
She was too young to fall in love
And I was too young to knowWhy did I give my heart so fast?
It never will happen again
Coz I was a mere lad of sixteen
I've aged a year since thenShe was only sixteen, only sixteen
With eyes that would glow
She was too young to fall in love
And I was too young to knowWhy did I give my heart so fast?
It never will happen again
Coz I was a mere lad of sixteen
I've aged a year since thenShe was only sixteen, only sixteen
With eyes that would glow
She was too young to fall in love
And I was too young to knowThat she was too young to fall in love
And I was too young to knowThat she was too young to fall in love
And I was too young to knowThat she was too young

Songwriters
CAMPBELL /Published by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Abkco Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/