

Cheap Parades

Williams, Holly

A memory falls down from what it was
With this confession I beg for more
I never mean to and it's been a while since
I found meaning in these desires
I know it's wrong to hurt you like this
I know it's wrong to lie like a kid
Fire and blankets, a cheap parade
Of guilty pleasures, I take the stage
Nothing feels good if it ain't true
It's like trying to cry for someone you never knew
I know it's wrong to hurt you like this
I know it's wrong to lie like kid
I love you with more tears
Any pain could ever bring me, I fight it 'most everyday
And I hurt you with more truth
Than your own eyes could ever teach you

I'm tired of living this way, when I know it's wrong
I never told you, you just kinda knew
By the way I'm not when I'm with you
You never take me like you used to
Oh and nothing heals the scars of all the ones we never knew
And I love you with more tears
Any pain could ever bring me, I fight it 'most everyday
Yeah, I hurt you with more truth
Than your own eyes could ever teach you
I'm tired of living this way, when I know it's wrong
I know it's wrong to hurt you like this
I know it's wrong to lie like a kid
I know it's wrong, it's wrong to hurt you again
I know it's wrong to lie like a kid

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>