Frozen Pines

Lord Huron

Deep into the night with the moonlight as my guide
I go wander through the pines and make my way to nature's shrines and I look up to the sky and I know you're still alive, but I wonder where you are I call your name into the dark.I wake up in the morning and I don't know where I've been.
All alone on a mountainside, and huddled in the wind.
And it feels like I've been away for an era but nothing has changed at all.
And it feels like I was with you, but what did we do and where have you gone?On the night you disappeared, I wish I had seen it clear.
But a strange light in the sky was shining right into my eyes.
There was no one else in sight, just the endless frozen pines.
but I wonder all they know 'cause they don't die and they don't grow.I am ready to follow you even though I don't know where.
I will wait in the night until you decide to take me there.
Cause I know I don't wanna stay here forever, it's time to be moving on.
I don't wanna be the only one livin' when all of my friends are gone.I will be waiting for you on the other side of the frozen pines.
I'm gonna find a way through there's another life beyond the line.
