

Hyperballad

Björk

We live on a mountain
Right at the top
There's a beautiful view
From the top of the mountain
Every morning I walk towards the edge
And throw little things off
Like car-parts, bottles and cutlery
Or whatever I find lying around
It's become a habit
A way to start the day I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with you I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with you It's real early morning
No-one is awake
I'm back at my cliff
Still throwing things off
I listen to the sounds they make
On their way down
I follow with my eyes 'til they crash
Imagine what my body would sound like
Slamming against those rocks
When it lands
Will my eyes
Be closed or open? I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with you I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with you I go through all this
Before you wake up
So I can feel happier
To be safe up here with you Safe up (here with you)
