

Flags

Brooke Fraser

Come, tell me your trouble
I'm not your answer
But I'm a listening ear Reality has left you reeling
All facts and no feeling
No faith and all fear I don't know why a good man will fall
While a wicked one stands
And our lives blow about
Like flags on the land Who's at fault is not important
Good intentions lie dormant
And we're all to blame While apathy acts like an ally
My enemy and I are one and the same I don't know why the innocents fall
While the monsters still stand
And our lives blow about
Like flags on the land I don't know why our words are so proud
Yet their promise soothing
And our lives blow about
Like flags in the wind You who mourn will be comforted
You who hunger will hunger no more
All the last shall be first, of this I am sure You who weep now will laugh again
All you lonely be lonely no more
Yes, the last will be first, of this I'm sure I don't know why the innocents fall
While the monsters stand
I don't know why the little ones thirst
But I know the last shall be first
I know the last shall be first
I know the last shall be first
