

Respect for the Dead Man (feat. Ken & Teru)

Pay money To my Pain

Respect for the dead man
You are buried in a room
Respect for the dead man
The window won't open
Respect for the dead man
They all just opened
Respect for the dead man
It's coming to close the window Once you learn, you will never get out
There is nothing you can do, there is nothing you can do
The window won't open
So you can't throw out yourself
You're just a passenger
And I'm a messenger
Pray to see
You were buried in the rooms
But the girl has fallen down
Let me open the window once again Respect for the dead man
You are buried in a room
Respect for the dead man
The window won't open
Respect for the dead man
They all just opened
Respect for the dead man
It's coming to close the window Once you learn, you will never get out
There is nothing you can do, there is nothing you can do
The window won't open
So you can't throw out yourself
You're just a passenger
And I'm a messenger
Pray to see
You were buried in the rooms
But the girl has fallen down
Let me open the window
So you can fly high again
It will never touch the ground It was plain to see
You were buried in the rooms
But the girl has fallen down
Let me open the window once again See the lights of illusion
It got you sense of the heartless pain

Let me open the window
Once again,,, once againFalling into the hollow
And now you're standing on the edge
Leave all you fame, pride and fate in the room
With broken wings, you aim for the sunI need you to fly, let me open the window
Once againPray to see
You were buried in the rooms
But the girl has fallen down
Let me open the window
So you can fly high again
It will never touch the groundIt was plain to see
You were buried in the rooms
But the girl has fallen down
Let me open the window once again
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>