Run

Eva Avila

Take a look around now
Tired pictures lying in the frame
Memories I've kept
Of so many yesterdays, gone away.I don't hear a sound now,
Is it cold out like it is here?
I think its time for to come out,
Ain't nobody gunna hold me down.I wanna run away from here
And from this broken heart
Run til the wind dries up my tears
I wont be turnin' around no more.One last look around now
Gather all the things I know I'll need
And leave regrets behind
Next defeat and disbelief.Walking out the door now
Suddenly I can't breath
I really need to go now
And I ain't gunna slow down.I wanna run away from here
And from this broken heart
Run til the wind dries up my tears til I'm far far away.
I wanna run away from here
And from this broken heart.Finally I feel the warmth of the sun
Finally I feel I can't get there without anyone
And every step that I take, lets me know I'm gunna be okay
Feels like fallin.I wanna run away from here
And from this broken heart
Run til the wind dries up my tears til I'm far far away.
I wanna run away from here
And from this broken heart
Run til the wind dries up my tears
I won't be turnin' around.
I wanna run away from here
And from this broken heart
Run til the wind dries up my tears til I'm far far away.
