

Brighter Still

Ron Sexsmith

above the noise i hear the bells they ring of poison in the well and death to all things real best walk away before they make us kneel like the morning sun rising o'er the hill i know it could be brighter still though you feel loss never fear 'cause it'll be brighter still i know it will for love has whistled down the wind just like the whisper of a friend giving breath to all our fears to laugh away our sorrow and our tears like the pale moon before the darkness spills
i know it could be brighter still on the sea tossed baby fear not it'll be brighter still i know it will brighter still brighter
brighter
all the shadows in the night when i see them in the light i don't feel so ill at ease i can feel my love breathe i feel her breathe if there's a mansion in the sky if there's a candle in the night we'll see its pale light trying to illuminate tomorrow in our minds
