Pierce The Veil

Before Today

Why do I talk so when it's your fault
You're the only one that breaks away
We had fun, we had fun, we had funEveryday will become night and it'll end without a change
We'll try still strong in chains, urging the mind
To speak until the weakness has been disarmed[Incomprehensible]I'll be back for you, well try, I'll find you
These midnight masquerades
Are still strong in their chains, their chainsIt's the motion in our blood that has since ran out of love
And it's so hard when we've wasted all our youth on you
Wait for the same moon, we were smoking on a cold day's afternoonIn the same, in the same, in the same fire
(Well soon untie)
When it's over the scenes fall in two
When it's over the sun will be back for you, for you
(We'll soon, we'll soon untie)
