

Be My Somebody

Norah Jones

I'm too foggy today
To know what you're sayin'
Your lips are moving so fast
And I just keep praying
For them to slow down
So I can make some sense
Of the words that are pouring out
Of your crooked spout
Last night was a record to be broken
It broke all over the kitchen floor
Oh no, don't you go
I'm coming back with a rag
To wipe away the haze from the days
We've forgotten all about
So be my somebody tonight
Be the one who'll hold me tight
Honey, please, please
'Cause I've been so all alone
And no one will pick up the phone
So honey, please stay
I held your head up, do you remember?
When you wanted to make a blanket outta me
Oh, I can't lie; I been keeping score
And it's your turn to wring me out
And lay me down to dry

Songwriters

Jones, Norah
Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>