The Heart You Break May Be Your Own

Patsy Cline

You think you're smart
You broke my heart
Left me to cry here alone but you'll return
One day you'll learn
The heart you break may be your ownYou promised me
Your love would be
A kind I'd never known tho' you weren't fair
You're unaware
The heart you break maybe your ownYou used my heart for a plaything
You'll be sorry, just wait and see
One day you'll find you are lonely
And the first one you'll think of is meYou'll look around
And when you've found
That you are all alone then you'll get wise
And realize
The heart you break may be your ownYou used my heart for a plaything
You'll be sorry, just wait and see
One day you'll find you are lonely
And the first one you'll think of is meYou'll look around
And when you've found
That you are all alone then you'll get wise
And realize
The heart you break may be your own

Songwriters
GEESLING, BOB / COLBERT, TINYPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/