Snakehole

Pyogenesis

(music: Roman Schnsee/Wolle Maier lyrics: Tim Eiermann) listen to me babe you're the one I never want to be start right here damned thing can't you see the things you've never changed so close your evil eyes always or never I don't mind these stupid things it's a shame, such a shame
I remember you my dear - in the snakehole when you are breaking my golden seal - in the snakehole the golden seal of innocence - in the snakehole I still remember your promised lands - in the snakehole listen to me twice shut up your mouth I hate the way you talk punishment will come a rope around your neck, the bleeding if your dawn so close your evil eyes always or never I don't mind these stupid things
it's a shame, such a shame
when you are breaking my golden seal - in the snakehole
I still remember your promised lands - in the snakehole after all these years my dreams have become reality to me a bleeding with no end isn't that fair? is that fair?
I remember you my dear - in the snakehole
when you are breaking my golden seal - in the snakehole
