T. Raumschmiere

Hey, hey, hey, there's nothing left to say
Hey, hey, I'll blow it all way
I think you'll blow it all way Everything you want to be
I'm not impressed, it's boring me
Your mediocrity is standing out
Some like it hot, well, I like it loud
So listen up you schmuck Hey, hey, hey, I'll blow it all way
I think you'll blow it all way
If only everything would fall
If only everything would drown
If only everything would break apart If only everything could fall
If only everything could drown
If only anyone could press restart Everything has been told
What was for sale
Has all been sold
Now listen up you schmuck Hey, hey, hey, there's nothing left to say
Hey, hey, I'll blow it all way
I think you'll blow it all way If only everything would fall
If only everything would drown
If only everything would break apart
If only everything could fall
If only everything could drown
If only anyone could press restart Hey, hey, hey, I'll blow it all way
I think you'll blow it all way
