Love In The 21st Century

Neon Trees

I don't believe in a life without consequences
Do you believe when I say that I'm not impressed?
You say I never, ever, ever, ever wanna talk again
I don't believe that you mean a single word you saidLines in the sand where we disagree
I think I wanna run away from you, you're killing me
But I know I wanna see you in a day or two
I don't believe that a single word you say is trueI guess it's love
In the 21st century
Woh, oh it's tough
Broken heart technology
Your kisses taste so sweet
But then you click delete, woh oh
Love in the 21st century
I'm in the 21st centuryI don't believe making out is a dead romance
I miss the days being kids simple holding hands
I'm sick of wondering if you would ever call me back
I check my four different accounts just to end up madWish I could dissect your brain apart
It takes a vivisection just to understand your heart
If we could just own up, get wound up, messed upLove in the 21st century
Woh, oh it's tough
Broken heart technology
Your kisses taste so sweet
But then you click delete, woh oh
Love in the 21st century
I am in the 21st centuryOh, it gets so critical
We become caught up in the trivial
My dear, we're both a bit too cynical
Come close, I'll give you something spiritual
Stand up and deliver me
We're in love in the 21st centuryI guess it's love
In the 21st century
Woh, oh it's tough
Broken heart technology
Your kisses taste so sweet
But then you click delete, woh oh
Love in the 21st century
I'm in the 21st centuryWoh oh, woh oh, woh oh
I'm in the 21st century
Woh oh, woh oh, woh oh

I'm in the 21st centuryKisses taste sweet
But then you click delete, woh oh
Love in the 21st century
I'm in the 21st century
