On the Same Side

James Morrison

We follow the lines 'til they get twisted out of place
Inside we're talk but there's nothing left to say
Everything good and so sweet has lost it's tasteWe should just turn around
We've got hearts that want to love but they only fight
I don't want to go to war
I don't know what we're fighting for?
We've got hearts that lift us up but we let them down
It's tearing us apart inside
Fighting on the battle linesWe should be standing on the same side
We should be standing on the same side
On the same sideI need to get back but theres nowhere ever feels this safe
The river the road disappear without a trace
The only thing that is clear is everything that's in our wayMaybe we should turn aroundWe've got hearts that want to love but they only fight
I don't want to go to war
I don't know what we're fighting for?
We've got hearts that lift us up but we let them down
It's tearing us apart inside
Fighting on the battle linesDont you know we should be standing on the same side
Dont you know we should be standing on the same side
Dont you knowIt's the cold that burns
It's the reason why
It's a lonely hurt that keeps hope inside
We got all we need
To turn around
Turn around
Just turn aroundWe should be standing on the same side yeah
Dont you know we should be standing on the same side
On the same sideWe've got hearts that want to love but they only fight
We've got hearts that lift us up but we let them down
We should be standing on the same side
