

King of Bloke & Bird

Robbie Williams

What you do speak so loud
I can't hear what you say
Except for the occasional word
So, fates a sentimental side
It bothers me
No longer king of bloke and bird
All of my life
Searching hard
Down in the wilds of love
Summon me now
Summon my life away
Summon me onto another day
A hand through the clouds
Keeps knocking me down
It's no less than I deserve
They built museums
I don't visit them
I've made enough trouble of my own
Into the night
Searching hard
Look for the light of love
Summon me now
Summon my life away
Summon me on to another day
Summon the evening winter
Waves are falling down again
I sing from the chaos in my heart
My heart
Then comes the evening
That makes life worth living
Shoving the shoes out in the light
She walks in, I can hear her
