I Get Ideas

Tony Martin

When we are dancing and your dangerously near me,
I get ideas, I get ideas.
I want to hold you so much closer than I dare to,
I want to scold you 'cause I care more than I care to.

And when you touch me and there's fire in every finger,
I get ideas, I get ideas.
And after we have kissed goodnight and still you linge,
I kinda think you get ideas too.

*Your eyes are always saying
The things you're never saying.
I only hope they're saying that you could love me too.
For that's the whole idea, it's true,
The lovely idea that
I'm falling in love with you.

(Instrumental interlude and pick up at *.)

Your eyes are always saying
The things you're never saying.
I only hope they're saying that you could love me too.
For that's the whole idea, it's true,
The lovely idea that
I'm falling in love with you.
