

Southern Girl

Amos Lee

Farewell my sweet
Well, the time that was coming
The road has begun
To move beneath my feet Good things come to an end
Well I hope through the pain
The heartache and strain
We can still remain friends Something about a southern girl
Make me feel right
In a Mississippi morning
She's an angel in flight In a blink of an eye
She'll be out of your sight
Something about a southern girl You're a soft melody
Well, I swear that I heard
From a lost Mockingbird
Stuck up in a tree We got a lot going on
Even though I'm not here
Please don't shed any tears for me
Day when I'm gone Something about a southern girl
Make me feel right
In a Mississippi morning
She's an angel in flight In a blink of an eye
She'll be out of your sight
Something about a southern girl I never meant to leave you lonely
It was only in your mind
Girl, I never meant to leave you lonely
It was only a matter of time Something about a southern girl
Make me feel right
In a Mississippi morning
She's an angel in flight In a blink of an eye
She'll be out of your sight
Something about a southern Something about a southern girl
