Southern Girl

Amos Lee

Farewell my sweet Well, the time that was coming The road has begun To move beneath my feetGood things come to an end Well I hope through the pain The heartache and strain We can still remain friendsSomething about a southern girl Make me feel right In a Mississippi morning She's an angel in flightIn a blink of an eye She'll be out of your sight Something about a southern girlYou're a soft melody Well, I swear that I heard From a lost Mockingbird Stuck up in a treeWe got a lot going on Even though I'm not here Please don't shed any tears for me Day when I'm goneSomething about a southern girl Make me feel right In a Mississippi morning She's an angel in flightIn a blink of an eye She'll be out of your sight Something about a southern girlI never meant to leave you lonely It was only in your mind Girl, I never meant to leave you lonely It was only a matter of timeSomething about a southern girl Make me feel right In a Mississippi morning

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/

She's an angel in flightIn a blink of an eye
She'll be out of your sight
Something about a southern Something about a southern girl