

Point Me Towards the Sky

The Coronas

They will always say theyre right
No matter who or what they fight
They just seem to scream it out
And put their hands over my mouth
But you, youll always be my eyes
So tell me what to do to make your day
Ok go just point me towards they sky
So at least I know theres nothing in my way
So Im walking with my friends
Cause it gives me something to defend
In the small days of my life
I have always known youre right
But you youre looking in my eyes
And youre asking me to blow them all away
Ok go just point me towards the sky
And tell everyone I left behind to pray
Theres nothing left to save
Ohoh your lies wont keep me safe
And in all my life youve never felt as proud as today and it feels great
But you, you said youd be my eyes
And youre asking me to blow them all away
Oh well ok go just point me towards the sky
So at least I know theres nothing in my way
Theres nothing in my way
