Frosted Flake Wood

Hooverphonic

Johnny went to frosted flake To go for a walk in the frozen wood He bumped into a mushroom That sold his body for some warm foodEat me my friend You'll be the leader of the band Johnny's hand reached out Luckily there was Mr. DoubtMr. Doubt, the old man Was the surveyor of frosted flake wood He tried to sell hesitation Wherever he couldBuy some doubt Feel free, he yelled loud Friends, it won't hurt Luckily there was big birdFor God's sake, run away Or it won't be your lucky day Leave this forest behind This ain't a place for humankind

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/