

They Don't Understand (feat. Phora)

Cristiles

This is really what it's like

Everday is a fight

Everyday is a struggle

From the day to the night

Tryna hustle

This is really what it's like

Everyday is a fight

Everyday is a struggle from the day to the night

Tryna hustle

Turning on your fans to a million dollars

Feeling like the six man

To score more than the starters

Aint nobody recognizes till you make it

So when nobody gives you chances then you take em

When you see em sleeping on you then you wake em see they promised me i would fail its a promise that im breaking on my momma id go to hell before i go back to jail I'll go back to the rain before i go back to that hail cause

All the pain that i feel is only making me stronger so the envy that they feel

Probably part of the karma

Swear to god if i was broke as i was for a second longer put the money in the bag or the tellers a gonner

Started from the bottom had to man up and get it thats why theres more

To my music than just money and bitches so fuck who dont get it,

They dont understand

They dont understand

If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me

They don't understand

They don't understand

If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me

They don't understand

They don't understand

If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me

They don't understand

They don't understand

If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me

If they don't understand me then fuck em

All these people throwing shots but i ain't planning on ducking momma raised a fucken man so i'm hustling honestly fuck a grammy i just don't wanna see my family struggling

how many cats you know that said they had your back that was frontin

how many people you see laughing to nothing Like it's actually funny that we rock dirty shoes and call it for nothing
They might never understand why im still standing for something but they opinion don't matter cause i know what im worth
I use to bottle my feeling never show where I hurt
I always pray for the best but they just hope for the worst
My past is like my shadow when i felt it was also a curse but i learned that you can make good from the bad so I ain't tripping on the things I never had
So let's work on the future dawg the past is the past screaming fuck em cause they'll never understand
They dont understand
They dont understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
They don't understand
They don't understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
They don't understand
They don't understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
They don't understand
They don't understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
My whole career screaming who would've thought Shit i would've and did weather you would've not Thinking to myself again what if you were to stop , you would of never made it this far you would've flopped
But instead you stayed focused refused to remain hopeless Knew you'd get better till you became dopeless don't get it twisted got a lot left to prove just reminiscing on the times I had a lot left to lose Nowadays there's so much on the table but i gotta stay stable think about it the pressure is faded keep your head up thru the thick and thin and you'll be destined to win but keep an edge in case you test it again putting hands on the punching bag till my ankle blocked out picturing the face of a sucker I wanna knock out
Temper explosive but we all feel the same emotion and if they tell me that they don't then fuck em
They dont understand
They dont understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
They don't understand
They don't understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
They don't understand
They don't understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
They don't understand
They don't understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
They don't understand
They don't understand
If they don't understand they ain't fuck with me
