

Undeliverable

The Soviettes

I walked the stairs up to your floor, I was meaning to pay a long overdue call
A dark man opened up your door, "no english" he could say but that was all
And so sarah take care, I know it's better that you'll never get this letter
You left us no address, I know you did what's best, I know it's best
Through silence I can hear somehow the echo of your screams
There's memories in these walls, If he's not drunk he's crying now
He tore down all your dreams and made you small

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>