Fred Astaire

San Cisco

Well I miss you baby
I've been thinking lately
That you don't need me anymore
You'd be better with Fred Astaire
He could take you anywhere
If you ask him toAnd God knows
That it's a common misconception
That I'm the only one for you
And I can take you to breakfast
But he could take you round the worldFred Astaire's the man for youHe could buy you a diamond ring
He could get you anything
If you ask him to
He probably knows how to dance
And he could fly you to France
And you could do it all night longAnd God knows
That it's a common misconception
That I'm the only one for you
And I can take you to breakfast
But he could take you round the worldFred Astaire's the man for youAnd God knows
That it's a common misconception
That I'm the only one for you
And I can take you to breakfast
But he could take you round the worldFred Astaire's the man for you
