Little Red Light

Fountains Of Wayne

Sitting in traffic on the Tappan Zee

Fifty million people out in front of me

Trying to cross the water but it just might be a whileRain's coming down I can't see a thing Radio's broken so I'm whistling

New York to Nyack feels like a hundred milesIt's not right, it's not fair

I'm still a mess and you still don't care

I go to work, I come back home

But you're still gone and I'm still aloneAnd the little red light's not blinking

No, no the little red light's not blinking

No, no the little red light's not blinking

On my big black plastic Japaneses cordless phone

Oh no, oh noStuck in a meeting on Monday night

Trying to get the numbers to come out right

I'm getting tired, I think I just might need a drinkAnd as I'm reaching in the bottom drawer

I'm dreaming 'bout the way it was before

Life was so easy I never really had to thinkIt's not right, it's not fair

I'm still a mess and you still don't care

I go to sleep when I wake up

The pain sets in and it never stops And the little red light's not blinking

No, no the little red light's not blinking

No, no the little red light's not blinking

On the desktop mailbox of my big black laptop

Oh noIt's not right, it's not fair

I'm still a mess and you still don't care

I go to work, I come back home

But you're still gone and I'm still alone And the little red light's not blinking

No, no the little red light's not blinking

No, no the little red light's not blinking

On my big black radio shack digital portable phone

Oh no, oh no, oh no
