

Still In Your Heart (2005 Remastered Version)

The Power Station

The night you met, it was a magic start
All the connections were made in your heart
Following you everywhere, you could feel her eyes
A glimpse of somebody takes you by surpriseAnother place and day, now where's she gone?
You can't forget her face or things you left undone
Re-run memories from the start, the time has flown
All the time you've been apart and she's still in your heartTry as you might the recollections stay
Like a photographic memory of each day
You can feel her by your side in an empty room
And words like forever you spoke too soonAnother place and day, now where's she gone
You can't forget her face or things you wish you'd done
Re-run memories from the start, the time has flown
Where's the ending and the start? Is she's still in your heart?
She's still in your heart

Songwriters

Taylor, Andy / Taylor, John / Palmer, Robert AllanPublished by Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>