

Sleep Spent

Death Cab for Cutie

I can't expel the truth
It's much more could I thought I could do
With time my worth will stain
And split your heart from my name So drive away your mouth from my ears
And waste a day so I can think clearly And what's left to wait for here
As my hands sleep spent this last year
Choking the bottle's neck that pulled you from my bed So drive away your mouth from my ears
And waste a day so I can think clearly
