

Nothing In The World

Atomic Kitten

It's been so long I can't remember when
We didn't care how deep it was we dived right in Watching everything around us disappear
Oh, I've missed you here And it seems the little things get in the way
We're so caught up in routine from day to day
Sometimes it feels like
Oh, I've missed you yeah So tell me there's nothing in the world
That could ever come between us
Show me your not afraid tonight
Baby, make me believe
That there's nothing in the world
That could ever steal the moment from right here
And now nothing, nothing, in the world Two shadows falling back together now
Baby we've spent too much time just hiding out
And there's nowhere that I'd rather be than here
Cause I've missed you, yeah So tell me there's nothing in the world
That could ever come between us
Show me your not afraid tonight
Baby, make me believe
That there's nothing in the world
That could ever steal the moment from right here
And now nothing, nothing, in the world Nothing in the world (in the world)
There's nothing in the world
