

So Sincere

World5

So sincere she sounded
So sincere I found her
I couldn't tear my self away
Her gaze was so appealing
Found my self revealing
Things I thought I'd never say
Like, I don't need another affair
And, I just want someone to care
How could it be
She could pull the truth from me
It's 'cause she's so sincere
I've been waiting
Been hesitating
Built walls that no one could get through
But she cures me
As she reassures me
That I've finally found a love that's true
Ok I've heard it all before
It's not just words with her, it's more
I know it's hard to see
Someone got to me
It's cause she's so sincere
Oh when she tells me love grows
I'm not naive but I wanna believe it
I, I've been searching my soul
Yes now it's clear
I must have her near
Because she's so sincere
Oh and when I look in her eyes
That's when I see the love there for me
We, we got nothing to hide
Yes it's so clear
I must have her near
Because she's so sincere
She is So sincere
So sincere
Shell never do me wrong
Yes her gaze was so appealing
So sincere
Yeah I searched my soul
Now I watch love grow
And its so revealing
So sincere
