Ali For Cody

Senses Fail

I'm giving up all the expectations
That I will live a meaningful life
I once was filled with inspiration
That lion heart has lost his prideI'm not the person that I thought that I would beI keep tripping over the same steps
These words are beautiful, advice is never useful
And I still walk the line held tight with my regrets
I'd rather die than live like this and I give up giving inSome people never will go crazy
What horrible lives they must lead
I'm gonna try and paint new scenery
And build a window to help me seeI'm not the person that I thought that I would beI keep tripping over the same steps
These words are beautiful, advice is never useful
And I still walk the line held tight with my regrets
I'd rather die than live like this, I gotta give up giving in
I have got my eye lids stapled shutI have failed but I'm used to it
The past is just that it's a sunken old ship
There will be moments
I pretend that I can raise it up, up out from the depthsWho the fuck am I kidding?
I was born with the curse of always giving in Every day is another chance to make peace with myself
But I would rather play deadSure it looks easy when it's through my own eyes
The hero has a thousand faces, none of them matching mine
Fuck the world, fuck the stars, fuck the person you are
And nothing will matter if I don't give up folding my cardsI keep tripping over the same steps
These words are beautiful, advice is never useful
And I still walk the line held tight with my regrets
I'd rather die than live like this, I gotta give up giving in
I have got my eye lids stapled shut